A Spanish Moor, Esteban The Black, led an expedition and tried to convert a native tribe in the new world, the Zuni, to Catholicism and they didn't accept it because he wasn't white

Virtually all stories of his death are based on legend or speculation. Some historians suggest that Estevanico was killed because the Zuni did not believe Estevanico's story that he represented a party of whites that was to follow him. Others speculate that he was killed for demanding turquoise and women.^[18] Roberts and Roberts wrote that others suggest that since Estevan, who was black and wore owl feathers and carried a medicine-man's gourd", the Zuni may have determined that he was pretending to be a medicine man, which was punishable by death. Others opine that may have looked like an evil sorcerer that

Today I learned Ben Carson tried to stab someone in high school they touched his(a black man) radio

In his book Gifted Hands, Carson relates as a youth, he had a violent temper. "As teenager, I would go after people with rocks and bricks, and baseball bats, and hammers." Carson told NBC's Meet the Press in October 2015.^[49] He said he once tried to hit his mother on the head with a hammer over a clothing dispute, while in the ninth grade, he tried to stab a friend who had changed the radio station.^{[50][51][52]} Carson
